A British View of the American Tariff.
Sheffield Daily Telegraph.
"The promoters of the McKinley tariff meant it to push forward the policy of America for the Americans. One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions. The country was to be made self-sufficient; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad. That was the key-note of the McKinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of designers with the precision and effectiveness of a machine."
REPUBLICAN victory in the coming election would retard for a long time the progress of the sound commercial doctrine that underlies the commercial greatness of Great Britain and alone maintains British ascendancy.—London Evening News.

MacCorkle's Cry.
The Democratic candidate for governor of the state of West Virginia is devoting his alleged talents in maligning the Republican party. The other day at Concord church he made the false assertion—and he knew it was false when he gave utterance to it—that if Hon. Thomas E. Davis was elected governor there would be mixed schools in this state. This is the silliest kind of bosh and no man with common understanding can be led away from the main issue of the campaign by such folderdash.

He also asserted that in every state where the Republican party was in power there were mixed schools. He can't point to one instance of it. The great trouble with Mr. MacCorkle is that he fears the intelligence of the negro in voting for his best interests. His alarm cry of negro domination is wasted. The majority of the voters of West Virginia are not fools, although Mr. MacCorkle would have them believe they were.
GENERAL WEAVER spoke at Pulaski and escaped unhurt. It is possible that the general was painting his bravery in brighter colors than the real circumstances warrant.
A MAN is now in custody in New York for having burgled tools in his possession, who invented contrivances to frustrate the ingenuity of thieves.
The charge of Chief Justice Paxton to the grand jury of Allegheny county is very plain, and if the evidence is forthcoming the advisory board of the strikers at Homestead will have an opportunity to defend themselves in court on the charge of treason against the state.

New York opened up her three days Columbus celebration yesterday with a parade of twenty-five thousand school children, an object lesson that ought to have made the bronze statue of the navigator and discoverer turn to flesh and blood.
Recent Conversions.
The papers on both sides of the political fence are beginning to teem with accounts of conversions from one party to another, and much ado is made over each case reported.
This is right and proper, but the fact remains that it is high time Americans should be making up their minds as to the ticket they intend to support next month. There is no question about the issues presented them. For the first time in a generation voters are enabled to distinguish radically between the beliefs of the two political parties. If a man considers protection to be unconstitutional; that a debauched ballot and a debased currency will promote the best interests of his country, then by all means, whether he has formerly supported the Republican ticket or not, let him vote for Democracy. If, on the contrary, he concludes from past history and present experience that the party which preaches opposition to these dogmas is worthy of his adhesion, whether he has formerly supported the Democratic ticket or not, let him vote for Republicanism. There is no excuse for hesitation. Let every one choose deliberately. There should be no place in either party this year for any man who cannot intelligently support its principles.

THE offer of San Domingo to pawn the remains of Christopher Columbus to the United States for a loan of $100,000 is something unheard of, yet that proposition was made to the State Department a few days ago.
GENERAL CRESPO, the leader of the Venezuelan revolution has been declared provisional president of that country. He has selected a strong cabinet, and will endeavor to bring the best of order out of something worse than chaos.
Cleveland and the Veterans.
Every old soldier knows the record of Grover Cleveland while occupying the presidential chair, and the insults he heaped on them, not only by merely vetoing pensions, but by the language he used in his messages. But Cleveland has another record while mayor of Buffalo and governor of New York that is equally as interesting. "In May, 1882, as mayor of Buffalo," says the Cleveland Leader, "he vetoed a resolution of the Buffalo common council, appropriating $300 to be used in defraying certain expenses connected with the observance of Decoration day, claiming that it was unconstitutional. Next, as governor, he vetoed a bill passed by the legislature authorizing the supervisors of Chautauqua county to appropriate money to pay for a soldiers' monument. This veto was based on the ground of unconstitutionality. Next he vetoed an act of the legislature appropriating $10,000 to be used in locating a New York monument on the Gettysburg battlefield. Next he vetoed an appropriation of $2,000 to provide for the issuance by the secretary of state of certificates to each New York veteran, showing that he had served in defense of his country. Next he vetoed a bill making it a misdemeanor for anyone not a member of the G. A. R. to wear the button of the order, the object of which was to prevent fraud and imposition. This bill was afterward re-enacted and signed by Governor Hill. It is said that while governor of New York, Cleveland did not sign a single original act designed to benefit the veterans. This record, taken in connection with his pension vetoes while President, should convince the union veterans that not one of them, whether Republican or Democrat, should vote for the fraud who is now on record as in favor of pensions for all "worthy" soldiers in the hope that he may get their suffrage."

It takes Chinese ingenuity to beat the cupidity of the customs house officers. The have succeeded in smuggling opium into San Francisco, and have left few clues behind.
THE Democracy of Pennsylvania are desperate indeed when they attempt to steal the electoral vote of the Keystone state by the methods alleged.
The Hypocritical Cry.
The alleged force bill issue of which the Democracy is trying to make so much cannot hoodwink sensible citizens who love fair play. The New York Advertiser puts the case in its proper light. In the issue of Sunday, October 9, it says:
A Bonrbon of the old school, calling himself very appropriately, "Democrat," caused the following to be printed in yesterday's Sun:
Fear of the force bill has made the south solid for Cleveland. The north should wake up on this issue, for the Democrats of the northern states will suffer equally with their southern brethren should Harrison be elected and the infamous force bill becomes a law. Let every Democrat go to the polls on November 3 and cast his vote for a free ballot.
This is racy of the Southern Confederacy. Fear of the force bill, so-called, is fear of the Republican demand for justice and equal rights everywhere. The power to demand justice for every voter in the south inheres to-day without additional legislation. The power which was conferred upon General Grant as president is in President Harrison's hands to-day. Has he abused it, or does he propose to abuse it? Not at all.
What nonsense, this appeal to "every Democrat to go to the polls on November 3 and cast a vote for a free ballot!" How preposterous!
The Democratic party does not ask for a free or fair ballot in this country. Not a leader nor a candidate dare go before the people and declare that he is in favor of having the vote of every adult citizen honestly cast and honestly counted. We will pay $1,000 to the languishing Cleveland campaign fund if Grover Cleveland will publicly, either by speech or letter, announce that every male citizen and voter of this republic, white or black, is entitled to have his vote received and honestly counted in any voting precinct in the United States. He dare not do it. And nobody who represents him or speaks for him or his cause dare do it. Why? Because the Democratic party is not the friend of a free ballot.

Cleveland on the Wrong Side.
Philadelphian Ledger (Ind.)
As a candidate for the office of Chief Magistrate of the nation, as one who may be clothed with supreme executive authority, he will be judged, however, not so much by his personal worth or even by the fair record of his official life as by the principles of his party as they are laid down in its platform. In this campaign there is practically a single issue—the tariff. With regard to that it is the common belief that Mr. Cleveland, even from the standpoint of his letter of acceptance, is upon the wrong side. The issue is plainly a business one, and there is nothing so conservative as business. It will vote for its own best good or what it believes to be best for the prosperity of the country. A genuinely protective tariff has been long tried, and under it the material progress of the country has been phenomenal. That is a practical argument which will certainly handicap the candidate that proposes to even slightly change the economic policy which has for so many years enjoyed popular favor.

Cleveland and the Veterans.
PROFESSION.
The American people are generous and grateful, and they have impressed these characteristics upon their government. Therefore all patriotic and just citizens must command liberal consideration for our worthy veteran soldiers and for the families of those who have died in a patriotic cause. A complaint should be made of the amount of public money paid to those actually disabled, or made dependent by reason of army service.—The Cincinnati Letter.
The Castle Bells.
Harper's Weekly.
Far down the brown autumnal baze—
High on the peak is snow—
Cattle that smell the winter days
Tinkle their bells as they go.
Out of a thick veil drawn to save
The sky's face from the blast
Those tiny bells, as fairies wave
Their wand, evoke the past.
That music once before I heard,
But then the notes were glad,
Caroling like a carlele bird—
Ah, why now is it sad?
Upon this brow now crowned by care
My lonely eyelids laid,
We heard the bells, now here, now there—
Dead are the leaves and maid.
Mayhap for happier maid and man
The tender music swells;
And I will smile while yet I can
Lie to the cattle bells.
Catarah in the Head
Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood-purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarah. It gives an appetite and builds up the whole system.
Hood's PILLS act especially upon the liver resulting from torridity to its natural duties, cures constipation and assist digestion.
THE only reason for Mr. Cleveland's nomination, and the thing that forced his nomination in spite of all the efforts of politicians, was the fact that, in the minds of the Democratic masses, he represents the idea of free trade. The platform is an unmistakable declaration against all parleying with protection. It puts the Democratic party in the field as committed to the policy of sweeping away every shred of a protective duty.—Henry George, the Free Trader.
The Rev. Wm. Stout, Warton, Ont., states: After being ineffectually treated by seventeen different doctors for Scrofula and blood disease, I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. Write him for proof.

BABES AND CHILDREN.
All Parents Will Read This with Greatest Interest.
Strong, vigorous and healthy children are what we all want, and how to keep our little ones in good health is a question of the greatest interest to us all. Children are peculiarly liable to nervous disorders; they become nervous, restless, fretful, cross and irritable; their night's sleep is not calm and restful, but they toss restlessly from side to side, murmur or talk in their sleep, and wake tired and unrefreshed in the morning. They have an irregular appetite, grow thin and pale, look slight and puny, and their growth and development become stunted.
If your children are sick, give that greatest of all children's remedies, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. This wonderful remedy is, above all, a family medicine, and its name is a household word in thousands of homes all over the land. It is made from pure and harmless vegetable remedies, is calming, soothing, and healing to the nerves, and at the same time strengthens and invigorates the entire system, restoring a healthful color to the cheek, refreshing sleep, strong nerves, stout limbs, and that bounding health and vitality which all children should have. It is perfectly safe to give to children of any age, and its curative and restorative effects are wonderful. Druggists, $1.00.

"My little girl had been taking medicines for a severe nervous trouble nearly two years, receiving no benefit. I then bought a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and her recovery by its use has been remarkable. Others of the family have received benefit from its use. C. H. Bemis, Granby, Mass."
Dr. Greene the most successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 15th Street, New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

A British View of the American Tariff.
Sheffield Daily Telegraph.
"The promoters of the McKinley tariff meant it to push forward the policy of America for the Americans. One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions. The country was to be made self-sufficient; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad. That was the key-note of the McKinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of designers with the precision and effectiveness of a machine."
REPUBLICAN victory in the coming election would retard for a long time the progress of the sound commercial doctrine that underlies the commercial greatness of Great Britain and alone maintains British ascendancy.—London Evening News.

MacCorkle's Cry.
The Democratic candidate for governor of the state of West Virginia is devoting his alleged talents in maligning the Republican party. The other day at Concord church he made the false assertion—and he knew it was false when he gave utterance to it—that if Hon. Thomas E. Davis was elected governor there would be mixed schools in this state. This is the silliest kind of bosh and no man with common understanding can be led away from the main issue of the campaign by such folderdash.

He also asserted that in every state where the Republican party was in power there were mixed schools. He can't point to one instance of it. The great trouble with Mr. MacCorkle is that he fears the intelligence of the negro in voting for his best interests. His alarm cry of negro domination is wasted. The majority of the voters of West Virginia are not fools, although Mr. MacCorkle would have them believe they were.
GENERAL WEAVER spoke at Pulaski and escaped unhurt. It is possible that the general was painting his bravery in brighter colors than the real circumstances warrant.
A MAN is now in custody in New York for having burgled tools in his possession, who invented contrivances to frustrate the ingenuity of thieves.
The charge of Chief Justice Paxton to the grand jury of Allegheny county is very plain, and if the evidence is forthcoming the advisory board of the strikers at Homestead will have an opportunity to defend themselves in court on the charge of treason against the state.

New York opened up her three days Columbus celebration yesterday with a parade of twenty-five thousand school children, an object lesson that ought to have made the bronze statue of the navigator and discoverer turn to flesh and blood.
Recent Conversions.
The papers on both sides of the political fence are beginning to teem with accounts of conversions from one party to another, and much ado is made over each case reported.
This is right and proper, but the fact remains that it is high time Americans should be making up their minds as to the ticket they intend to support next month. There is no question about the issues presented them. For the first time in a generation voters are enabled to distinguish radically between the beliefs of the two political parties. If a man considers protection to be unconstitutional; that a debauched ballot and a debased currency will promote the best interests of his country, then by all means, whether he has formerly supported the Republican ticket or not, let him vote for Democracy. If, on the contrary, he concludes from past history and present experience that the party which preaches opposition to these dogmas is worthy of his adhesion, whether he has formerly supported the Democratic ticket or not, let him vote for Republicanism. There is no excuse for hesitation. Let every one choose deliberately. There should be no place in either party this year for any man who cannot intelligently support its principles.

THE offer of San Domingo to pawn the remains of Christopher Columbus to the United States for a loan of $100,000 is something unheard of, yet that proposition was made to the State Department a few days ago.
GENERAL CRESPO, the leader of the Venezuelan revolution has been declared provisional president of that country. He has selected a strong cabinet, and will endeavor to bring the best of order out of something worse than chaos.
Cleveland and the Veterans.
Every old soldier knows the record of Grover Cleveland while occupying the presidential chair, and the insults he heaped on them, not only by merely vetoing pensions, but by the language he used in his messages. But Cleveland has another record while mayor of Buffalo and governor of New York that is equally as interesting. "In May, 1882, as mayor of Buffalo," says the Cleveland Leader, "he vetoed a resolution of the Buffalo common council, appropriating $300 to be used in defraying certain expenses connected with the observance of Decoration day, claiming that it was unconstitutional. Next, as governor, he vetoed a bill passed by the legislature authorizing the supervisors of Chautauqua county to appropriate money to pay for a soldiers' monument. This veto was based on the ground of unconstitutionality. Next he vetoed an act of the legislature appropriating $10,000 to be used in locating a New York monument on the Gettysburg battlefield. Next he vetoed an appropriation of $2,000 to provide for the issuance by the secretary of state of certificates to each New York veteran, showing that he had served in defense of his country. Next he vetoed a bill making it a misdemeanor for anyone not a member
